Morehead Physician Dies Of Paralytic Stroke Thursday

Dr. Grover C. Nickell, 65, prominent Morehead city leader and physician, died at his home here Thursday afternoon, of a paralytic stroke. Dr. Nickell had been in poor health for the past four months as a result of a broken leg, and for the past six months had conducted only a limited practice from his bed, mainly in a consulting capacity.

He had been a practicing physician and surgeon here for the past forty years and had been physician for Morehead College for 16 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Chester Stinson Haldeman, and by three brothers, Walter, Morehead; Robert, Ashland; and Dr. G. C. Nickell, Jr., who present whereabouts are unknown.

Another brother, Dr. Homer L. Nickell, preceded him in death five weeks ago of a heart attack.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday, December 18, at 2:00 p.m., at the residence. Burial will be in the Lee Cemetery.

Tips To Farmers On Curing Meat

Rowan County farmers are killing a large number of hogs this winter. The meat shortage and the low price of hogs have encouraged farmers to kill their entire meat supply. There has been a big demand for the dry sugar cured method of curing hams, bacon and shoulders. The following cure can be used on all three cuts: 1 1/2 pounds of salt, 2 1/2 pounds of sugar and 2 ounces of saltpeter to 100 pounds of meat. For the best results, both meat and ingredients should be weighed. Divide the curing mixture into three equal portions. Rub one portion on the meat and pack in a container or on a table. Three days later, rub on the second portion. Let the meat cure three days, then put on the remaining portion of the curing mixture. After they have been in cure 10 or 12 curing days, remove the shoulders, bacon and all lighter-weight cuts. Remove the hams in about three weeks. Two hams is long enough to leave in the to

County Schools Prepare For Christmas With Enthusiasm

The schools of the county are all preparing for Christmas with much enthusiasm. Nearly all of the schools are giving a Christmas program and inviting the parents to attend. The rural schools will be out the 20th and 21st for Christmas and the consolidated schools will be dismissed from the 24th of December until the 1st of January.

Twenty-One States Fill Quotas For Army, Navy Nurses

Kentucky Among Those That Are 'Over The Top'

Twenty-one states filled their year's quotas of nurses required for the Army and Navy Nurse Corps before November 1, according to a report of the Red Cross Nursing Service. Indiana with 571 assignments exceeded its quota by 147 and Wisconsin with 424 assignments exceeded its quota by 111.

Other states over the top are: Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Miss Gertrude Barnfield, assistant director in charge of recruitment, pointed out that the five states with the largest nurse quota have failed to reach their quotas. New York has recruited 2,372 out of 5,571; California, 1,158 out of 2,458; Pennsylvania, 1,232 out of 2,498; Illinois, 1,440 out of

Housewives Could Feed 876 Soldiers On Annual Food Waste

Rowan County's 3,105 housewives could feed 876 soldiers for a year with the food waste annually in homes of the county, according to the county's leading food processor estimated today.

This strange figure is based on accurate government statistics which indicate that at least 1,679,605 pounds of food are wasted annually in Rowan County homes, according to Harvey A. Baum, head of A & P Tea Company's produce-buying operations.

This waste is a matter of war and everyone must fight waste of it now," Baum pointed out. "Efficient food processors, processors and distributors have worked for years to reduce waste. Our company, for example, can cut waste and spoil the remaining food and vegetables by 50 per cent during the past 20 years," he added. "Now the government is urging a similar war on food waste in the home."

Kitchen efficiency, Baum suggested, should include three points: (1) buy as nearly as possible just the required amount; (2) use moderate helpings; and (3) use all left-overs.

Baum said that although housewives have eliminated much food waste since Pearl Harbor, over eight per cent of all food bought for home consumption is still wasted. While it is obvious that waste cannot be prevented entirely, he added, carefully planned diets and the use of the meat can be fed with the resulting savings in homes of this county.

He estimated that about 1,514 pounds of food each year, he concluded, while the average soldier "puts away" 1,916 pounds annually.

Marie Falls Selected For 1943 Edition of 'Who's Who'

Miss Marie Falls, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Falls, 214 Fifth street, who will receive her A. B. degree from the Morehead State Teachers college in August, is among these students who will be listed in the 1943-44 issue of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. The book will be released April.

Miss Falls is president of the Epsilon Theta Chapter of Kappa Delta Psi at Morehead State Teachers college. Secretary of the Beta club, and a member of Kappa Mu (Commerce club), College Band, Y.W.C.A. and on the staff of the college paper. While at Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, in the fall quarter of 1941, she was a member of the Delta chapter of the Home Economics club, and Pi Gamma Chi, social society.

Food Production Classes In County Begin Second Year

Machinery Repair Shops Are Opened at Sharkey and Elliottville

The Food Production War Training Program in Rowan County is underway for the second year. Several courses on Egg Production have been completed with good results, according to Charles M. Hughes, teacher of Vocational Agriculture. Several farmers have indicated they will build new brooder houses for the coming breeding season. One or two are going to build new laying houses and many old ones are being repaired to prevent drafts and wet floors. Some of the poultry raisers are culling their flocks to get rid of the "borderers." These borderers are as much food and require as much housing space as the layers. The teachers of these poultry classes have stressed the value of securing baby chicks from hatcheries using eggs from tested flocks. This will eliminate Bacillary White Diarrhea which is an inherited disease and very deadly to the young chicks.

Food Production War Training classes will close in the county when the ones now in operation are completed. Classes in gardening and the canning of vegetables will begin sometime in February.

The shops at Sharkey and Elliottville have been open for the farmers for the past eight weeks. Mary has taken advantage of these shops and have their farm machinery in good shape for winter storage. The shop will also be closed until February. At this time they will open for further repair of farm machinery needed for the coming year. The shop at the agriculture building will also be open for spring farm machinery.

This program is sponsored by the local Board of Education through its department of Vocational Agriculture, and is made possible by funds appropriated by the Federal Government to make available classes for adults in the production of manure.

The communities in which a course in Egg Production has been completed are as follows: Hardesty, Sharkey, Branton Branch, Upper Lack Fork, Perkins, and Dittney. More than 150 farm men and women enrolled in these classes.

Postoffice Will Remain Open Until 8 P. M. Saturday, Dec. 18

The Morehead Post Office will remain open Saturday, December 18, until 8:00 o'clock p.m., according to an announcement from Post Master Claude L. Clayton.

This measure is being taken, Mr. Clayton said, to accommodate an extraordinarily heavy volume of Christmas mailing this season.

Junior Hostesses Of Local USO Meet With New Leaders

A meeting of USO Junior Hostesses was held in the USO club rooms Friday evening, December 10, 7:15 o'clock. Mrs. J. D. Falls, director of the local USO, presided over the meeting and introduced the new leaders of the junior hostesses organization. Mrs. Bob Laughlin, Misses Caroline Gable, Margaret Shannon, Jo Ann Wesley, Marie Falls and Ruth Boggs.

Mrs. Laughlin discussed plans for the gift-wrapping party which is being organized each Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon at the USO for service men until the Christmas season is over. Many attractive packages have been wrapped and mailed to date.

Miss Caroline Gable spoke on the subject, "The Responsibility of the Junior Hostesses in the Success of the U.S.O. Parties." Plans for the Christmas party were discussed by Miss Mary Frank Wiley, and Miss Blanche Jones spoke of plans for decorating the USO for the Christmas season, and asked the help of junior hostesses. An interesting discussion period with junior hostesses participating freely, was held. It was agreed that the junior hostesses will meet with the Service men's wives on Thursday evenings at the USO from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock, thus assisting in making these wives stay in Morehead more pleasant.

Citizens Bank Makes Christmas Club Checks This Week

The Citizens Bank recently mailed checks to the members of their 1943 Christmas Club. This means that holiday shopping will be a pleasure instead of a burden to a lot of people. It also means more trade for the Morehead merchants and it of course means that some of the money will go into Savings accounts and War Bonds.

The Bank announces the opening of the 1944 Club at this time and we are informed that a number have already joined the Club for the coming year.

The Bank announces that they have some very pretty covers for War Bonds that are free to persons desiring to give War Bonds for Christmas presents.

These covers show a typical Christmas scene and are free to purchasers of bonds who desire them.

L.C. Young Promises Gas Compressor Will Boost Pressure Here

Machinery To Be Moved From Depleted Field On Long Hungry Creek; E. E. Maggard Placed In Charge Of Operation

L. C. Young, Lexington, president of the L. C. Young Natural Gas Company, has promised immediate relief from the low gas pressure in the city's municipally-controlled gas mains, which has kept Morehead residents shivering in near-zero weather for the past few days.

Truck Buyers Are Warned To Consult ODT Before Acting

Many Buyers Fail To Qualify For Motor Fuel After Buying Vehicles

The Office of Defense Transportation this week advised all persons in the Lexington ODT District planning to purchase trucks placed on sale by armistice officers to consult the ODT Motor Transport District Office before installing of the compressor.

Several cases have occurred in the Lexington District which is in the 5th Army Service Command, Wm. N. McGee, ODT District Manager, said where persons have purchased trucks and then found the proposed services were of a nature that would not qualify them for allotments of motor fuel and mileage, under ODT regulations.

The ODT warning on purchases of Army trucks which are no longer suitable for military use also applies to would-be buyers of used trucks of any kind. Such a purchase should not be made until the prospective purchaser is certain that a Certificate of War Necessity, required for operating any kind of commercial motor vehicle, will be issued by the ODT for the type of service in which the truck is to be used.

By checking with the Lexington ODT office, prospective purchasers of used trucks can avoid possible financial loss from buying vehicles for which they will be unable to obtain gasoline allocations, Mr. McGee pointed out.

Mr. McGee stated that he has been instructed to advise inquirers informally whether or not Certificates of War Necessity would be granted and gasoline mileage certified in the event they purchase vehicles.

Mr. McGee warned also that persons contemplating setting up new business enterprises or enlarging present businesses, where the use of motor vehicles would be involved, should consult the Lexington ODT district office for the same reason.

Breck Eagles Nip Flemingsburg, 46-18

The Breckinridge Eagles were again victorious Saturday night when they swamped Flemingsburg 46-18, at Flemingsburg. The Eagles did well by themselves even though it was the first time they had encountered the new type goal. In spite of this fact, they hit the long shots accurately, and a fine spirit of teamwork, rounded out by the usual stellar performance of Bill Banks, accounted for the top-heavy score.

The Eagles will meet Owensville there next Friday evening, December 17, in a game that should prove very decisive as far as regional competition is concerned. Since both Breckinridge and Owensville have defeated Mt. Sterling, last season's region representative, it would appear that the game Friday night will have more importance than just another season basketball game.

The remainder of the Breckinridge schedule follows:
Jan. 5-Haldeman (there).
Jan. 6-Olive Hill (there).
Jan. 10-Morehead High (here).
Jan. 13-Mt. Sterling (there).
Jan. 17-Grayson (there).
Jan. 25-Owingsville (here).
Jan. 28-Owingsville (here).
Feb. 4-Mt. Sterling (there).
Feb. 8-Brooksville (there).
Feb. 11-Ashland (there).
Feb. 18-Marysville (there).
Feb. 24-Ashland (there).
Feb. 25-Morehead High (there).

Mr. Young told a special meeting of the Morehead City Council, Thursday, at which several local citizens were present, that a gas compressor now located at an exhausted field on Long Hungry Creek, eight miles from Morehead, would be moved to the new gas line near the Rowan-Lewis Community, to boost pressure in a newly constructed sixteen-mile pipeline. Company officials have explained that the new gas field has more than ample volume of gas, but that the long drag through the 16-mile line cuts pressure down to the point that a compressor is necessary.

Mayor N. E. Kennard said that installation of the compressor would require a great deal of work, necessitating construction of a permanent concrete base, in addition to the twenty-mile moving job and reconstruction of the machinery, but added that three 8-hour shifts of laborers would be used if necessary to get immediate relief for Morehead citizens.

E. E. Maggard, city commissioner of water and gas, has been placed in charge of the project. Mr. Young promised that "no expense will be spared in completing the job as quickly as possible."

by-wood-for fuel, quoted Henry Sipe, Acting Supervisor of the Cumberland National Forest at Winchester, Kentucky, this week. He pointed out that wood has very definite advantages for use as fuel. It is clean, leaves very few ashes, and there is a never-ending supply in the forested area. A standard cord--XXXXX--of hickory, oak, or beech, has the same fuel value as one ton of coal. Other species are less valuable, in proportion to their weight. In fact, on a dollar and cents basis, figures are available to show that well-seasoned wood burned in modern equipment, and at a reasonable cost per cord, is probably the cheapest fuel available.

On the market are specially designed "heating" type heaters that slowly burn every combustible element in the wood--nothing is wasted. The fuel magazine needs filling only once every 8 to 24 hrs. And what few ashes remain may be used as fertilizer. Then, there are steam and hot water furnaces based on the slow burning principle, which can heat up to 10 or 12 room houses and carry an efficiency rating of 78%. For those who like to see a log in the fireplace, but don't want 80% of the heat to go up the chimney, there are special appliances. And mixed with coal, wood can be used in nearly any heater.

Sipe reports many a pile of slabs, edgings, and railroad ties in rural yards that fall. Increased logging and sawmilling, supplies of wood suitable for fuel are unusually plentiful. Many mills have slabs for sale, and the wood left in tree tops after sawlogs or ties have been removed makes fine fuel. These too rotten for lumber, ties, pulp or mine props are also suitable. Problems to be solved are getting the wood out to proper length and hauled to its destination.

It is the policy of the U.S. Government to allow dead or down wood to be removed from the Cumberland National Forest land, by local residents, for fuel purposes. Permits may be secured from Forest Rangers Karl Stoller at Morehead, Earle Meekins at McKee, John Hicks at London and Wilson Mitchell at Starns. Removal of this dead wood cleans up the forest, prevents waste, and reduces the fire hazard. And it is the forest that will some day provide eastern Kentuckians with a much more important share of their money income, their necessities and luxuries of life.

USES Advises Job Seekers To Obtain Clearances First

Moving From One Area To Another Without Permit Slows Production

Workers who leave this area for jobs elsewhere without first obtaining a Statement of Inter-Area Clearance will lose time and money and retard the war effort.

That was the warning issued today by Orison Ratliff, Manager of the United States Employment Service for the Ashland area.

"When a worker quits his job and goes to another area seeking work, he slows down war production here. But that isn't all. When he goes to another area in Ohio, Kentucky or Michigan without a Statement of Inter-Area Clearance, he finds he cannot be hired unless he has a Statement of Inter-Area Clearance. So, that worker loses time; he loses wages; and he is out the money which it cost him to make the trip.

"Some areas are almost entirely closed to immigration. They will hire only selected workers from the outside because of shortage of housing and transportation.

"If a worker feels that he could contribute more to the war effort by moving to another area, he should follow this procedure: (1) ask his employer for a release or a statement of Availability; (2) if the employer denies the request, stay on the job and appeal to the United States Employment Service; (3) if the USES grants a Statement of Availability, ask the USES for a Statement of Inter-Area Clearance.

"The USES has complete information as to the areas which will not hire workers from the outside.

"The pasture may look greener from the other side of the fence, but workers who quit their jobs and move to other areas without a Statement of Inter-Area Clearance are finding that they can't get jobs and that they lose time and money. There are not many such workers, but when even a few move around without the statements, they retard war production. That's why we are urging workers to stay on the job and not seek work elsewhere without first obtaining a Statement of Inter-Area Clearance."

The word of chewing gum that used to be on the sole of our shoe has also "gone to war."

Lady's Stomach Was Like A Gas Factory; Meals Turned To Gas

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory." That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE of STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloating after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get Erb-Help?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. C. E. Bishop Drug Co.

New Quill & Quair On Sale This Week

All-Student Issue Edited By Mary Denney

"Quill and Quair," student literary magazine at Morehead State Teachers college, will go on sale this week, at twenty cents per copy.

Reduced from 9x12-inch to 6x9-inch to save paper, it enters its third consecutive year of publication with an issue edited by Mary Denney, sophomore.

Everything in this issue was written by Morehead students. The leading feature is "Leaders Don't Die," by Edwin D. Rice of the death several years ago of the musical director at a high school in West Virginia.

Virginia Karkick of Salt Lick is represented by a narrative poem, "Why, Lily?" Mrs. Hallie Huey of Paintsville contributes a charming sketch of a small boy, under the title "How Much is a Nickel?" Two wartime stories are "Black Market," by Mrs. Marie Rowland of Morehead, and "Army Pay," by Mrs. Jean Fields Huffman, formerly of Grayson.

Other contributions include short pieces by Mary Ella Lappin and Margaret Shannon of Morehead, and a story by Cora Pierce of Mt. Sterling about a moon-shiner and his wife and little boy. One of the few such magazines published in the state, "Quill and Quair" appears three times a year, always under student editorship. In each February issue, Huey is given to some of the best work submitted by high school pupils in the Morehead area.

The magazine was founded by Miss Inez Faith Humphrey, associate professor of English, and has numbered among its contributors in the past James Stuart and his brother James, Woodridge Spears, and "Cotton" Noe.

Nurse Quotas ---

1,752; Massachusetts, 1,350 out of 1,641.
 "Before the end of the year we must assign 7,282 more nurses to the Army and Navy to reach our quota for the year," Miss Banfield emphasized. "This means that 26 per cent of the total quota of 28,000 nurses must be recruited. Since the 1943 inventory showed that there are about 191,000 active nurses who presumably are eligible, it is possible to obtain the additional number required for the military without seriously disrupting nursing service for the civilian population.

TIPS TO FARMERS ---

12 pound hams in cure while larger hams should be left in curing for three weeks. No pieces of less than 20 pounds need be left in cure longer than 21 days. Pieces weighing more than 20 pounds should observe the "one-and-one-half days per pound" rule. After curing, remove the meat, wash it in lukewarm water and then smoke it.

Pork sausage when properly made is a choice delicacy. The meat should be about three-fourths lean and one-fourth fat. The amount of seasoning to use for mild sausage is: 1½ ounce of salt, ½ ounce of black pepper and ¼ ounce or less of dried finely ground sage to 6 pounds of meat. If you do not have scales, this recipe when transferred to Tablespoonfuls would be as follows: 3 table-spoonfuls of salt, 2 tablespoonfuls of black pepper and 1 tablespoonful of sage to six pounds of meat. These measures should be level. The seasoning should be mixed in a pan and then spread on the meat before it is ground. Smoking with green hickory wood adds to its keeping qualities. It should be smoked from 2 to 4 hours. Too much smoking produces a strong flavor. Sausage stuffed in cloth bags if preferred, will keep longer and maintain its quality longer than that stuffed into casings.

On Wednesday evening, December 22, at 7:15, we will have the program by the children of the Sunday School with the Christmas Tree. We are looking forward to having Santa Claus with us that evening.

The Christian Crusaders of the Church of God will have a rummage sale in the upstairs room at the Courthouse Saturday, December 18th. There will be many toys for sale that cannot be bought now such as trains, cars, etc. Come and see this display, and buy some of your Christmas toys. Also there will be clothes and other articles for sale.

All normal persons carry in their mouths and throats numerous germs or bacteria, none of which are ever discussed; but mention streptococcus and they fear the worst. Yet a streptococcus sore throat is sometimes no worse than one caused by a bug of another name. So don't get the jitters, it may be just a sore throat.

CHURCH NEWS

The Christian Crusaders will present a Christmas Shadow Play, the "Life of Christ" Sunday evening at 6:30 at the Church of God. There will be readings and Christmas Carols in keeping with the theme of the play.

Sunday morning at the regular worship hour of 10:45 there will be a special Christmas message. The church will be decorated for the occasion and there will be special music by the choir under the leadership of Prof. M. E. George. There will be a special Christmas program at the Vesper Hour of 5:15 p.m. At this service the white gifts for distribution to the needy of the community will be presented. A special program presenting the Christmas Story in song and Scripture and, pandemic. All are invited to attend these services on Sunday, December 19, 1943.

Who Owns the Railroads?

BIG BANKERS? With white ribbing on their vests? And heavy loops of gold watch chain?

Guess again! Think of a small brick house in a whole row of brick houses in a large city in Ohio or Illinois. Think of a large stone mansion on a Pennsylvania hillside, a place for old folks to go to when they're left alone in the world. Think of hospitals in Indiana and Wisconsin, colleges in Virginia and Washington, insurance companies in New York, and Massachusetts and Minnesota.

Think of a cross-section of American life. Now you're getting warm. If ever there was a public property—in the sense of widespread ownership—it's our American railroads.

Here are the facts about a typical railroad—the Chesapeake and Ohio.

275,083 shares of its stock are owned by colleges, hospitals, churches, charitable institutions and insurance companies.

40,496 of its common stockholders own 50 shares or less. These represent approximately 70 per cent of the total common stockholders.

These people live in every state of the union and in its territories. They come from nearly every walk of life, and include employees of the road, teachers, lawyers, business men, stenographers, farmers, men in the Army and Navy—people who live "just around the corner" from you.

In some countries the people have not been enterprising enough to build and maintain their own railroads. And the government has had to do it for them. With us the citizen and not the state has been the force behind our railroads. We have preferred the progress that comes from free competition to the stagnation that accompanies political patronage and bureaucracy.

This system has worked. In the face of the greatest emergency ever to strike this country, the railroads of America have proved more able than ever before to meet the task imposed on them. With consideration for their welfare in the future, they will meet post-war tasks in the same way.

In short, the railroads could be in no better hands than in the hands of the American people. For they, in the long run, must be served.
